Here's to Life!

December 21, 2021

We have much to be proud of this year, many accomplishments. Our mission is righteous, our work imperative, our impact profound. You can read more about our year and our accomplishments here.

We have big plans and much to look forward to in 2022 with particular emphasis on market leadership, member engagement, advanced performance, and health equity, bound by the values that unite us: humanity, leadership, excellence, courage, and trust. Stay tuned...

But now, we pause at this special time of year, to mark something, someone, prophetic and a time when something miraculous happened. Let's pause to imagine that possibility. Because it's in that wonder, that a beacon of light shines through me and you, and gives us hope. Here's to that light! Here's to life!

We rejoice in life and in the living. Because it's in community with others, no matter the number, that we come together to commune, to pray, to sing, to dream. In doing so, I am reminded that I am blessed by those around me, and I am grateful for those I love. I have much hope for a New Year filled with promise. What will it bring? How will I contribute? How will I live a purposeful life? What about you?

So much has happened, so much has changed this year. Our unsung heroes, the women and men working side by side in Community Health Centers across this country, taking care of their patients during the era of Covid, have risen to the challenge and excelled. For their selflessness, dedication, and caring, I am humbled and most grateful and very proud.

Let's stay strong, be bright, choose love, lead with our hearts, and prevail. See you in 2022!

Happy Holidays – Happy New Year!
